

Nikita Deepak Poyrekar

Consultant, Deloitte India

npoyrekar@deloitte.com

Qualifications

- B. E : Mumbai University
- MTech: KJ Somaiya college of engineering

Primary skills

- Frontend development – React, Next.js, Angular 7+, JavaScript, TypeScript
- SQL, Python
- POSTMAN, JEST, React testing library

Professional Experience

Nikita is a Front-end developer with Deloitte India. She has close to 3 years experience in software development and client management roles. She has developed enterprise applications with visually responsive elements using state-of-the-art JS frameworks like Angular, React and Next.js. She has led the entire PED (Product, Engineering and design) team for projects across Healthcare, Property and retail management sectors. Key competencies and experience include -

- Translating the UI designs into front-end code
- Experienced in Waterfall & Agile Software development practices
- Experienced in presenting product demonstrations and project delivery updates

Tools & Technology:

- Programming languages: JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML5, CSS3, Less, Python, etc.
- Frameworks: Angular, Next.js, Bootstrap, Semantic UI, Materialize and Tailwind CSS
- Libraries: React, Angular Material and Ant design
- Version control: Git, GitHub and Bitbucket
- UI design tools: Figma, InVision and Zeplin
- API collaboration: POSTMAN and Swagger
- Project management tools: Rally, Airtable and Atlassian tools like JIRA and Confluence.

Key Engagements

- Designed and built a digital platform to simplify tenant and landlord management function for a leading USA based real-estate organization. The role involved gathering requirements, identifying resolutions to the existing problems / challenges, developing technical specifications and execute the same.
- Developed user authentication module using biometric verification for a pharma client in India; technology stack included ReactJS, and python
- Exposure to Test Driven Dev: Involved in defining and executing test cases at using JEST and React testing library.